REFLEXOLOGY AT THE VILLAS

Prana features a lush, central courtyard garden filled with palms and bougainvilleas, a restaurant offering organic Ayurveda and Indian food options, and an exclusive boutique offering top of the range handicrafts from around Asia. The Sanskrit word Prana translates to 'vital force' and everything about Prana Spa and Villas has been designed to provide guests with a gentle, restorative experience tailor-made to their individual requirements and needs.

SPA AT THE VILLAS

The Villas Bali Hotel and Prana Spa began as the vision of artist Jim Elliott. He built the first villa for himself, integrating traditional Balinese architecture with modern, western conveniences to suit his own creative vision. Soon friends, impressed with the simple elegance and lasting comfort, pressed him to build villas for others following his original formula. A private villa that is a world within a world. Four walls containing lush tropical gardens, individual thatched roofed bungalows, all featuring the latest audio visual equipment and centered around a deep water swimming pool. Every ingredient for a perfect life.
